

PRACTICING THE WORLD WE WANT

We are already making the world that we are standing for. We all have the tools. We've known how to do this since we were kids.

In this makerspace, we invite you to gather with your people, roll up your sleeves, and share a glimpse into what you are imagining and practicing.

How are we already building a more just, caring, and liberatory future?
What does this world look, feel, sound like?

STEP 1

Using the materials spread before you, create a representation of your world-making in any way you choose. You can be literal, diorama style. You can be poetic, metaphoric, or abstract. You can work in 3-D or 2-D. You can take 5 minutes. You can take an hour.

STEP 2

However you choose to represent your world-building, finish by filling out an exhibit label for your piece.

EXHIBIT LABEL

Title of Work:

Created by:

Description:

What tools are you and your collaborators using to build this liberatory future? Be specific.

